10 - 11 - 12. soruları aşağıda verilen metne göre cevaplayınız.

Television can be a good educator and entertainer but watching too much TV is not good for children. They become overweight because they don't move much. Some programs can affect children negatively. Young kids are afraid of violent and frightening scenes. They become aggressive and feel the world is scary. So, parents should choose the programmes suitable for their children. They should also put a limit to TV-watching hours. They should also educate children about the signs on TV and teach them to pay attention to these signs.
